My dear best friend.

Happy Birthday!

I am so immensely proud you. Your passion, drive and authenticity is something I will forever strive to have. You have a rare mix of talent, ambition and humour that everyone just loves. Watching you grow and succeed is so genuinely heart warming, and knowing I get to be a part of that is something I will always be grateful for. I value how we challenge each other to be better. We never lose. We win together, we laugh together, and we never let each other settle for "good enough". I would not be where I am now if it weren't for you, both on Twitch and in my personal life. You are a rock to me and I genuinely cannot thank you enough.

I've never had a friend like you. Now I don't know if that's a good thing but I'm going to say it is. This year we will meet. I will be inside your home and car and stream. We will go on many drives and see many things and eat many foods. We will watch movies together and sit together and be quiet together. I've never been more excited for a trip than I am for this one. It's going to be the best because it will involve me.

I hope 34 brings you everything 33 did and more. You made this last year yours and I trust you will do the same again. Even though you are pushing 40, I still think you are quite cool and a bit funny. All the success I have seen you achieve is totally deserved and I'm so excited to see the next widget you build for your stream that is all made by you and not etsy.

I love you, even if you are a weak man oft'n.

See you very soon <3

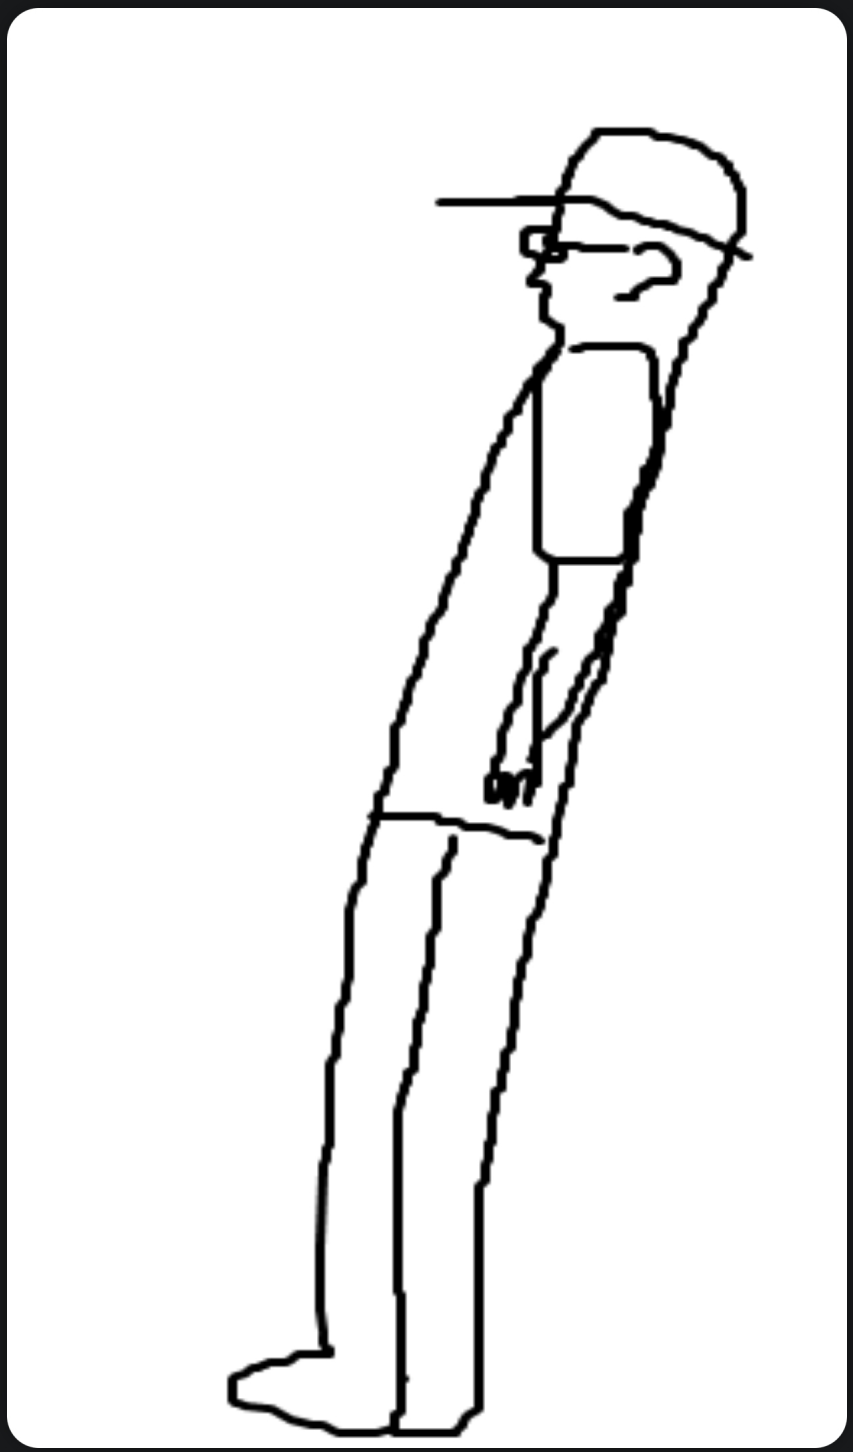
First off, where my hug at? In all seriousness, I hope you have the most special day, and I hope you feel all of the love and light around you. You are truly such a blessing in all of our lives, and I'm proud of you every day, and even more proud to call you a friend.

Stumbling upon your corner of the internet last year changed so much for me, and I'm not sure I can ever find the words to express the gratitude I feel. Because of you, and the community you've built, I have grown, and learned so much about myself not only as a lil guy on the internet, but as a person. Thank you, sincerely, for everything.

Shrimply put, happy birthday. Let's do this again next year, yeah? ❤️

Sarah Gravy



Happy birthday Chebsey!
Hope you have the best day and get one million subs and also one million bits.
I love u and am a proud lil spong for how you've grown the community in the time I've known you, and am so thankful to have a friend like you in my life. You've given me confidence to be myself on the internet without shame or fear of being laughed at, you've made me laugh to the point of being unable to breathe and tummy hort and you have just been an absolute pleasure to hang out with, any hour of the day.

You bring joy to so many people on a daily basis, and the community you've built is so solid, am very proud to be a part of it, both as a team member and as one of your besties.

I hope you have the best birthday, you deserve all the fun cool shiny things in the world.

HAPPY MATT DAY

Happy birthday, man(hands). 🎉 April 18 has always felt like one of those dates with a little extra spark to it, and honestly, that fits you. Did you know April 18 is both World Amateur Radio Day and International Day for Monuments and Sites? (I had to look that up.) That felt weirdly perfect, because you're the kind of person who knows how to connect with people, and the kind who leaves a lasting mark without ever needing to make a big show of it. 😂

And April 18 has some wild history behind it too. On April 18, 1775, the lantern signal at Old North Church helped set Paul Revere's famous ride into motion. On April 18, 1906, the San Francisco earthquake struck and became one of the most famous events in U.S. history. And on April 18, 1923, Yankee Stadium opened, with Babe Ruth hitting the first home run there. So your birthday already comes with a built-in legacy of signal fires, resilience, and legendary openings.

"Hey, your name is Matt, you're 34 from Australia, and you are one hell of a friend!" 😻

But my favorite April 18 fact is still the simplest one, it's the day you were born. You're a really good guy, which means more than people always say out loud. I hope this year gives back some of the same kindness, loyalty, Tier 3 Subs, and solid-hearted energy you give to everybody around you. Happy birthday, brother.

Paw

Matt,

Fuckin hell.

I wasn't here to celebrate the big 33, but I'm glad to be here for the 34. I know I like to give you shit, but while I'm here let me give you the opposite. I'm grateful for you. You accepted me back in the community and it's been the absolute best thing for me (not my wallet) since. Your charm, your charisma, your passion, and your Pepsi addiction, they're all like nothing I've seen before. You've done so many big things in your 33rd year, things I wasn't here to see, so I can't wait to see what bigger things come with 34. Thank you for being you. Thank you for being a friend. Thank you for everything. Love you, Matt. Happy 34th birthday!

Signed,

Nibs, 28, from Michigan, and happy to be one of those friends you like making so much.

Nibs

Matthias! Another year around the sun, another need to update your standard greeting. You're still in your 30s so it ain't creepy yet, but just wait until you're saying MY NAME IS MATT, I'M 40 FROM AUSTRALIA, AND GET IN MY VAN KIDS, I'VE GOT FREE CANDY!

I digress.

Happiest of birthdays to you Matthew. I'm so proud to have watched you grow from the hottest Disney Speedstorm streamer Twitch had ever seen to now being Mr. Partner and Mr. Standby-While-I-Rat-These-Innocent-People-In-Arc. We need not talk of the dark times...The marbles era....

Say Hi to the wife and kids for me, can't wait to join you all for your tattoos of french fries at Twitchcon this year!

I got hacked.

stolen all your accounts. It's the kind of thing that really makes a man reflect.

Still, if anyone was going to survive a cyber attack through a combination of stubbornness, strange luck, and weaponized pattern recognition, it was always going to be you. You've got that very special kind of autism where, yes, you might overanalyze absolutely everything for six hours straight, but by the end of it you somehow emerge with the exact right answer, three backup plans, and a new system nobody asked for but everybody ends up needing. It's genuinely inspiring. And slightly terrifying.

You are one of the few people I know who could probably lose half his accounts, rebuild his life from digital rubble, and still somehow pause halfway through to explain in detail why a menu alignment is wrong, why a button feels "off," and why the wording on an alert box is technically inconsistent with the overall tone of the brand. That is commitment to the craft. That is excellence. That is evolutionarily the most advanced form of Autism ever known.

I do feel partly responsible, of course, because I built your website. I handed you this lovely shiny online presence and apparently what I actually did was create a more efficient, better-organized list of things for criminals to steal. So in a way, this is a shared achievement. You brought the content, I brought the infrastructure, and together we apparently built a premium user experience for identity theft. That's teamwork.

But jokes aside - you've got a huge heart and the rare ability to make people feel welcome and then rob them blind. It's a beautiful balance. Very hard to achieve. Even harder to maintain. Yet somehow you do it every day.

I hope the year ahead is massive for you with more laughs, more good streams, more great moments, more wins, more people realizing what a gem you are, and fewer moments where your beautifully autistic brain decides to latch onto one microscopic issue and treat it like a national emergency. Though to be fair, that's also part of your charm. Deeply frustrating charm, but charm nonetheless.

You've been through a lot lately, and even when it's shit, you still keep going. You still show up. You still make people laugh. You still care. That means more than you probably realize.

So happy birthday, have a brilliant day. You deserve it.

BIRTHDAY!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY MATT!!!! So glad that I stumbled across your chaotic but wholesome community, y'all have been nothing but accepting! You have this awesome way of making everyone feel included, no matter what our interests are or where we're from and I couldn't be more grateful for that in an era where the world is just getting crazier by the day. So much love for you on your birthday, dude. I hope you have an absolute blast and get spoiled by Milly and the cats <3 Here's to hopefully many more years of being absolute clowns on the internet!

Thank you for being such a sweetheart from the first time I joined stream. No matter what you always have the biggest smile on your face and you always are here making everyone smile every stream. I'm sorry I haven't been in stream as much but I will be back in stream more often.

I love the karaoke in stream so much it makes you so different from other streamers. You are so dedicated to this community and we all appreciate you and the time you want to spend with all of us. I love the way you react to everyone's selfies and pictures, it has helped me become so much more confident in myself.

I'm so grateful that I found your stream it is the most wholesome community I have been in. I appreciate you so much and I hope you have an amazing birthday! I love you Matt

Here's a fun fact for your birthday.
Parodies of paperback novels and movies aren't infringing on copyrights if you make sure it's not an exact copy rip off, you make it educational, or you pre-buy royalty rights.
I decided to make an educational parody for your birthday.
You've heard of 50 Shades Of Grey, but JUST FOR YOU MANHANDS (technically for MRs Manhands) I am writing a 10 page leaflet called "50 Shades Of Purple - The art behind consensual asphyxiation"
...It's gonna have little pop out manhands!!!!!!

Whether or not I go through with this, only you would get the little manhands version of my jokes. So this joke is specifically for you.
Happy Birthday.... let her breathe.

Happy Birthday Autismo! Another year of you making memories and growing as a person and creator. I am so proud of you for the progress you've made and how much the community loves you. I can't wait to keep watching you grow and it is heartwarming how much passion and love you have for everyone you meet. I will always be honored and grateful for the opportunity to call you a friend and dare I say a best friend. I hope I have the opportunity to hop into streams more and the VC's. I love and miss you <3

I remember writing a message just like this one around this time last year. Can you believe we've now been in one another's lives for OVER a year? Must be almost two years now 🎉 Because you are special, a kind and silly soul who I treasure in my life. We may not talk often, and I may be too shy to talk in chat, but know that you CAN reach out any time you want to say hi, vent about something a meanie said to you, share cute cat photos, or ask for a wholesome selfie 😘 Thank you for being exactly who you are and staying true to yourself to keep this community a place where all of us weirdos can collide and feel comfortable 🙏
